POLICY OF U. S. IS ANNOUNCED

Governing Motive to Be
"Morality and Not Expediency," Says President.

ATTACKS INTERESTS

Government Not Seeking a Foot of Additional Territory by Conquest.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 26.—President Wilson announced to the world today that the governing motive of the United States in its relationship with the countries of this hemisphere would be "morality and not expediency."

"I want to take this occasion to say," he declared, "that the United States will not again seek to secure one additional foot of territory by conquest."

The president in a speech before the Southern Commercial congress delivered a veiled attack on what he termed "the material interests" that had influenced the foreign policy of some governments in their relations with the nations of Latin America. Though Mr. Wilson did not mention Mexico, his address was interpreted as an arraignment of those financial influences which it has been charged have secured in some cases recognition for the Huerta government.

The president declared that it would be the duty of the United States to assist the nations of this hemisphere in an "emancipation" from the "material interests of other countries."

MEXICANS HAVE NO PRESIDENT

Huerta to Retain Authority and New Congress Declare Election Void.

RETURNS ARE MEAGER

No Detailed Information as to the Voting—Few Ballots Cast.

Washington, Oct. 27.—On the face of the meager returns from the Mexican elections and apparent indications that a president had not been chosen, officials in Washington today claimed justification for the policy of this government in declining in advance to recognize the elections as legal and fair.

Although nothing official had come to the authorities here, the prevailing opinion was that Huerta would retain his authority and that a new congress would proclaim the election null and void.

Definite announcement from the Huerta government of the election outcome is not looked for here for several days. A few dispatches were received by Secretary Bryan from Mexico City. They contained no detailed information as to the votes cast for president, but all asserted that the votes everywhere throughout the republic had been illegal. The reports were sent to President Wilson at Mobile.

Eagle Pass, Oct. 27.—Official returns of the Mexican election in Piedras Negras showed Huerta polled 3,765 votes, Felix Diaz 122, and Frederico Gamboa 3.

Vera Cruz for Huerta.
Vera Cruz, Mexico, Oct. 27.—Provisional President Huerta obtained 1540 of the 2000 votes cast in Vera Cruz at yesterday's election, according to the official returns.

General Felix Diaz polled 300 and the remaining 200 were scattered among other candidates.

No Election Returns.
Mexico City, Oct. 27.—The returns of yesterday's election may possibly be known within a week, but it is more likely that a fortnight will elapse before the count is placed before the public. Not even a good guess to who was at the top of the poll can be made at present. Returns, even from nearby states, are fragmentary.

In the federal capital itself the result may be known within a day or two.

Telegram received today by the department of the interior, showed that the elections at Guadalajara and Toluca passed off in orderly manner.

PRESIDENT IS NOT GIVEN RECOGNITION

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 27.—One of the features of the entertainment of President Wilson here to open the Southern Commercial congress was a trip up and down the harbor today. As the revenue cutter Windom, with the president and party aboard, proceeded up the harbor, a steamer flying the Mexican flag was noticed lying near a British freighter. No acknowledgment of the presence of the president of the United States was shown by the Mexican vessel. The British steamer dipped her flag as the revenue cutter passed.

MRS. EATON IS EXAMINED

Married the Admiral to Save
His Life—Feared He Might Kill Himself.

Plymouth, Mass., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Jennie May Eaton resumed the stand for cross examination today in her trial for the alleged murder of her husband, Rear Admiral J. G. Eaton.

"Did you know that your husband's income stopped with his death?" Attorney Morse asked Mrs. Eaton before her cross examination began.

"I did," Mrs. Eaton replied.

Under the questioning of the prosecutor, Mrs. Eaton repeated her story of Saturday regarding her early life, her marriage to her first husband, D. H. Ainsworth, and her separation from him and of her meeting with Admiral Eaton. The admiral was very intimate, she said, but under her care he drank considerably less and finally asked her to become his wife.

"It was only when I saw that he was going to kill himself that I decided to marry him," she said.

"When you married him to save his life?" asked Mr. Barker.

"Yes, I married him," replied Mrs. Eaton.

JURY CLEARS WIFE

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 27.—The jury in the trial of John Burton and Mrs. George Gottschalk, charged with murder of the woman's husband, today brought in a verdict acquitting Mrs. Gottschalk and giving Burton four years for manslaughter.

NO DECISIONS TODAY
Washington, Oct. 27.—None of the important cases pending before the supreme court was decided today.

BUSINESS MAN A CONFESSOR THIEF

San Francisco, Oct. 27.—For five years William Bastain has been accepted by business men of this city as a responsible citizen with a profitable wholesale jewelry business. His property investments have been numerous and large; thousands of dollars have been sent by him to support his mother in Germany, and his young sister has had the best educational and social advantages.

Today he lies in the city prison, a confessed robber with a record covering many years, captured by a police pup who penned him in a corner as he stole through a back yard in the night.

"My work has been so easy it has been laughable," Bastain told the detectives when he finally broke down. "I have never been disturbed while at work. The people I did business with believed me to be what I represented myself absolutely. Jewelers bought my diamonds and the mint took my melted gold without question. Always a Thief."

"I have always been a natural thief and I have found it easy to steal things. But I am averse to killing or injuring. I had never been in a position where I had to shoot until Friday night. My reluctance to use my revolver caused my capture."

Bastain was making his way across the yard of the home of Ulrich Debrunner Friday night, when Miss Jennie Debrunner's dog discovered him. The uproar brought the girl to the scene and while the dog held the man she summoned the police.

Young Sister Not Implicated.
Evidence to substantiate Bastain's alleged confession is said by the police to have been found in his handsomely fitted apartments where he lived with his young sister. The girl was ignorant of his revenue, he said, and the police were inclined to believe him.

Among the numerous burials to which Bastain is said to have confessed was the looting of the home of S. N. Wood, a wealthy merchant of $5000 in jewelry, last December.

SUPPOSED RESPONSIBLE CITIZEN HAS LONG CRIMINAL RECORD IN SAN FRANCISCO.

HE MIXED IN FAMILY QUARREL AND NOW IS IN JAIL

E. L. Boyd, colored, now known by experience that it is dangerous and often fatal to intrude into a quarrel between man and wife. Boyd did so last night when Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, colored, were having an argument and as a result he is in jail suffering from a sore head and with a charge of disturbing the peace against him.

According to the testimony in police court this morning, Anderson was punishing his wife when Boyd intervened on the ground that it is bad business for rooming-house people to keep their roomers awake by fighting. Anderson objected to the advice and, according to Boyd, struck the intermeddler on the side of the head with a galvanized bucket, flooring him. According to Anderson, Boyd cut him with a knife. Anderson denies the bucket story and the knife story is denied by Boyd.

Judge Reeder took the case under advisement and ordered Anderson held until the city physician can determine the age of Anderson's wounds.

After hearing the details of another fighting case, the judge gave John Murphy a sentence of 15 days or $15. Murphy was arrested Saturday night on complaint of Matt Conway, who alleged that he was assaulted and battered by Murphy in a Twenty-fifth street saloon.

Murphy said he fought because Conway called him a "scab." Conway denied calling Murphy a "scab" and said that Murphy hit him because he protested that there were men outside of Butte who were just as good workers.

George Bowen, charged with drunkenness, pleaded guilty but was held until the charge that he broke up a cigar store Saturday can be investigated.

H. C. Warden and Jack Johnson, both charged with drunkenness, were given suspended sentences. They were arrested on complaint of a landlady who did not want drunks in her house.

Defame Funk.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Prepared for a severe cross examination from attorneys for the defense, Mrs. Josephine Henning, who made a complete confession Saturday of her part in the alleged conspiracy to defame Clarence S. Funk, resumed the witness stand today when the trial of Daniel Donahoe and Isaac Stiefel was resumed.

When the direct examination of Mrs. Henning was resumed, the prosecutor showed her a statement which she admitted she had signed in Donahoe's office, without reading it.

The statement, a portion of which was read to the witness, recited that she had met Funk several times a month during a certain period and had received flowers from him and taken automobile rides with him.

Mrs. Henning said that the statements were untrue and that she did not know they were in the statement when she signed it.

COMMISSIONERS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL

At the high school assembly today coach Romney told the students that he was very sorry that the team was defeated by the Granite Friday but that the boys will likely do better hereafter, as all the following games will be played in Ogden.

The high school is under a commission form of government, having three commissioners whose duties are to look after the school and make laws by which the students may learn how to obey the laws of the city. The school mayor has in a way just as much power as the mayor of Ogden.

The students who hold the high offices of the school are those who have shown themselves worthy, either in athletics or otherwise. The three commissioners are Claud Farr, mayor-commissioner; George Melander, fire and police commissioner; and Arthur Perkins.

Some of the classmate editors are: Miss Oertel Rich, society; A. Jones, athletics; and Miss Walchberger.

CIVIL CEREMONY PERFORMED

Geneva, Switzerland, Oct. 27.—The civil marriage ceremony between Miss Nancy Leishman, daughter of John G. Leishman, former American ambassador to Germany, and the Duke of Croix was performed today by a magistrate in the town hall of the village of Veresli.

ENGLAND AWAITS MEXICO RESULTS

Nothing to Be Done Until Conference With United States Is Held.

EXPECTING MESSAGE

President Wilson's Line of Action to Be Considered By Government.

London, Oct. 27.—Before taking any further steps in regard to Mexico, England intends to await the results of the elections in that country and also information as to the policy of the United States.

The Associated Press was informed at the foreign office today that nothing would be done without consultation with the United States.

President Wilson is expected to communicate with Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, as soon as he determines on his line of action. As the recognition of Provisional President Huerta by Great Britain lasts only until the election has been concluded, she will then be free to consider any proposals emanating from the United States, with which country she desires to work in harmony.

In spite of reports to the contrary, England has not initiated or participated in any exchange of views between the European powers in regard to Mexico.

STORIES OF WRONG AS RECITED IN THE DIVORCE COURT

In the divorce case of Cora Berg against Walter H. Berg, the defendant has filed an answer in the district court denying the allegations of the complaint and alleging affirmatively that the plaintiff deserted the home August 19, 1913. The defendant also alleges that the plaintiff has been in the habit of being away from home late at night with men other than her husband and that at 11 o'clock September 2 of this year, when the defendant came home, he found the door locked and the lights burning. He went to Sylvan park, he alleges, and saw his wife there. She slipped home ahead of him and then claimed that he had locked her out of the house.

The husband states that when the plaintiff left home she took with her the dishes and bedding and other household articles.

A final decree of divorce has been issued to the plaintiff in the case of Bertha Hubbard against George S. Hubbard.

Elizabeth M. Chandler has commenced suit for divorce against Earl G. Chandler on the grounds of cruelty. The parties are alleged to have been married in Salt Lake, September 6, 1911.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant has a violent, uncontrollable temper and that he is quarrelsome and fault-finding. On September 30, 1913, the plaintiff says, the defendant struck her in the face with his fists and threw her against the wall and furniture of the room, bruising her badly and causing her great distress.

Mrs. Chandler asks for divorce, alimony, the care and custody of a minor child, a division of the community property and a restraining order to prevent the Union Pacific company from paying the defendant his wages, and also, an order to restrain the defendant from disposing of any property pending the suit.

REFORMS NEEDED IN THE PRISONS

Seventeen Urgent Recommendations
Placed Before Auburn Commission.

DRASTIC REVISIONS

Many Punishments Now in Vogue Unnecessary—Better
Cooked Food Needed.

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Seventeen urgent recommendations for reforms in the management of the Auburn state prison were made by the state prison commission as a result of the work which the commission's chairman, Thomas Mott Osborne, spent behind the bars in the guise of a convict. Mr. Osborne presented the report to the state superintendent of prisons Friday. The recommendations are as follows:

Privacy in bathing, new arrivals. Now the men are bathed in a tub in the shop, in full view of the convicts working there.

More frequent baths. One bath a week is insufficient for men engaged in hard manual labor.

Each convict should have three suits of underwear. "At the present time the addition of the bodies and underclothing of convicts is far from healthy because of perspiration. If an extra suit were in each cell, a man could use one for wear, one for night clothes, and one would be in the wash. Now the men sleep in their underwear and wear it day times."

Prisoners should be allowed to read newspapers and magazines.

The rules for writing and receiving letters need drastic revision. "Take away a man's benefits, if necessary to punish him, but do not deprive him of his friends and family."

Would Abolish Tea.
While the food is good, "the coffee and tea are execrable," and the report recommends the abolition of the use of tea and improvement in the coffee. Tea, it says, is harmful because it causes constipation and sleeplessness.

The situation which sends men to punishment cells on very limited portions of bread and water is brutal and unnecessary.

A graded system of punishment should be adopted for offenses. There is no sense of proportion or fairness in the present manner of meting out punishment. The punishment for whispering is the same as for assault.

Allow Men to Talk.
There seems no good reason for enforcing a policy of silence. "Men are made to talk, and you cannot fly in the face of nature."

In cases of punishment meted to a prisoner involving the extreme penalty of the punishment cells, there should be direct action by the warden and punishment only after a hearing by him.

The sale of tobacco and groceries should be regulated with greater care. Excessive use of a specified article is often harmful to the prisoner.

In Auburn there has been a sale of matches, as in Sing Sing. Men are now forced to use flint and steel.

Wet Weather Provision.
Provision should be made for rainy days. Convicts are now forced to march through the long yard and often become drenched. On return to their cells they have no alternative but to go to bed or sit up in wet clothes, there being no change of clothing in the cell. A water proof cape for use in inclement weather is suggested.

The kitchen should have a civilian cook. Only a professional cook can obtain the best results from the materials provided.

The "play hour"—time allowed for playing musical instruments—should be extended.

The prison rules, which are incomplete, should be re-coded.

The taking of a convict's record should be simplified.

DESPOUDENT WOMAN RESCUED BY THE POLICE FORCE

Melodramatic and pitiful is the story that the police have secured from Mrs. Jane McFadden, a woman arraigned this morning before Judge W. H. Reeder on a charge of vagrancy. The police believe that she was halted when about to enter an uncertain life in a local rooming house.

Mrs. McFadden was arrested Saturday night when the Fashion rooming house was raided by Detectives Robert Burke and Robert Chambers, Sergeant O. H. Mohlman and Patrolman Oscar Swanson. With Mrs. McFadden were arrested two other women who gave their names as Myrtle Dean and Maud Brown. Bail to the amount of $50 each was soon provided for the two last named, but Mrs. McFadden, not yet of the clan, was left to her own resources.

The police learned that Mrs. McFadden is the wife of George McFadden, recently declared insane after he had been arrested on the charge of burglary in the second degree. The husband, previous to his arrest, had been supporting the wife in a small way, but after his arrest, Mrs. McFadden was obliged to work in a local laundry until she became so ill two weeks ago that she had to leave her position.

The woman pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy this morning, but she declared that she had not been long in the Fashion when she was arrested Saturday night. The impression secured from her statement was that she had been there but a few hours.

Detective George Wardlaw stated to the court that the woman was not bad, but that she was despondent. He said that she had given them information that was of use to the police and suggested that she be kept in jail for a few days to secure medical attention and regain a normal state of mind.

The two other women forfeited the $100 when they failed to appear for trial.
